

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

LIBRARY BOARD FINANCES.

It has been found after all that the south side library board is not one of the departments of the city but that their funds can legally be handled by the officers of the library board, the same as is done in the case of the school board, hospital board, exhibition association and board of trade. The library board will order their books and pay their bills as a corporate body and will merely bother the city to furnish the money in a lump sum. All the details of purchase and management will be under the jurisdiction of the library board who are appointed by the city.

The city will keep out the money to pay interest on the library debt. All other money will go direct to the library board.

RELIGIOUS CENSES.

The committee in charge of the religious census of the south side have divided the south side into 25 divisions with two ladies as enumerators in each. Mrs. Martin has been appointed chairman and Mrs. R. E. Miller secretary of the committee. It is expected that the census will be begun and finished this week.

The cards for the religious census of the south side will secure the following data:

Street and number; name of occupant; Occupation and place of business; No. of children; others in the home; Do the children attend day school? Which? Do the children attend the day school? Which? Church preference; member or adherent; Remarks.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN TEAMSTERS

Sept. Council of the street maintenance department was named to receive permission at the convention of the Canadian Highway Association to be held in Winnipeg, Oct. 9 to 12.

The attorney-general's department had a letter before the council asking for the interpretation of the city closing bylaw affecting motor vehicles. There was some doubt as to whether or not little "corner-carts," in cutting parts of the district, where motor vehicles, including such a cart, would have to close their way to the street. The council decided to vote in favor of amending the bylaw so that it would affect only the motor vehicles of the district.

"Workingmen's Cars."

Secretary of the Trades and Labor Council wrote regarding securing better accommodation for workingmen in the morning and evening hours on the street railway.

Ald. MacDonald moved that the matter be referred to the city commissioners to report, but Ald. Livingston wanted to know what the street railway was doing in regard to making improvements, and so wanted all letters between the street railway and commissioners.

Major Armstrong.—There's an absolute distinct line drawn. The council has nothing whatever to do with the street railway. If the council wants to hear a report on what the commissioners have done, the commissioners will be quite willing to report to the council.

Major Armstrong.—Will Ald. Livingston's amendment cut off the matter was referred to the city commissioners.

Ald. Livingston presented his request, under the heading of an enquiry, later in the evening.

The council instructed the city auditor to go over the books of the Imperial Home Reunion Association, if he possibly could find time.

The complaint of the Trades and Labor Council that certain carpenters at the power house were not getting the minimum scale of wages was referred to the commissioners, with power to act in the matter.

Regarding Refuge Home.

Ald. May presented a letter from Mrs. Maxwell, of Bethpage, had been read, that a delegation from the council interview Premier Sifton and try to get immediate steps to establish a suitable refuge home and sanitation for feeble-minded. This matter was before the council several weeks ago. Conditions at Bethpage house, where half insane, broken down and feeble-minded children, were crowded together, are deplorable. The committee to interview the premier is expected to return from their interview before the council.

Once more the residents of St. Paul and St. Francis, across the river, told their experience before the council.

Ald. MacDonald declared that he had recently visited this locality, was mortified at the number of people living there and thought the council

Y. M. C. SECRETARY PROMOTED.

F. P. Brueckel has accepted an appointment to be membership secretary of the Montreal Y. M. C. A. He will be much missed at the south side Y. M. C. A. for since he moved across the river to take charge of the Young Men's Club he has made many friends on the south side. His friends on this side of the river congratulate him and wish him success. He leaves the end of the car for the west.

C. P. R. CAR BLOCKS WALK.

Nearly a week ago a C. P. R. car No. 11035, was shunted off the end of the railway track across the sidewalk on Saskatchewan street between First and Second street and the pedestrians have to get off the sidewalk into the ditch in order to get past. The wheels have crept through the planks breaking the sidewalk. The walk is still blocked.

NATIONAL PAVING MOVING.

The National Paving and Contracting Co., Ltd., were busy yesterday dismantling their plant and machinery on railway cars preparatory to moving to the north side. The large part of the machinery is built upon a steel frame which runs upon a pair of railway tracks. They expect to move at 6 p.m. today.

W. F. M. S. MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will be held on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock. A special feature will be an address by Miss Kenney, a returned missionary from Formosa. All ladies whether members or not are cordially invited.

S. S. POLICE COURT.

Magistrate Downes dismissed the complaint laid by G. W. Mackenzie against Sam Maadi for willful damage to personal property. Costs were laid on the defendant.

J. H. Howwell was fined $50 and costs for assault upon Chas. A. Reid.

ARMORY NEARLY READY.

The painters are busy putting the finishing touches upon the new armory. It is a few days yet before the building will be completely ready for showing out of the hands of the contractor.

SOUTH SIDE MARKETS.

Produce are busy. Farm products are scarce. Timothy hay ranges from $17 to $19 a ton and may hay $19 up. Old oats are quoted at 30 cents and new oats not yet sold.

It would do something to give them water and sewer at least. The city engineer, South side engineer, who are members of the committee, reported that they would have a complete report on improvements to this locality in by and Thursday evening.

The question of renaming and renumbering the streets on the South side has been discussed by the committee, with Ald. Tipton and the city engineer, who are members of the committee. The city engineer's scheme, which already has been published, will be discussed by the committee.

G. T. P. and Grandview Hotel.

The request of the G. T. P. for permission to remove the Grandview hotel to the rear of the lot in order to allow construction work on the hotel was granted, although Ald. Clarke objected on the ground that the commissioners in recommending the move, after taking action by ordering the building inspector to issue the necessary permit, were flouting the council. Ald. MacDonald thought that as long as the city was protected in the matter, the commissioners were acting properly.

In answer to a question, City Engineer Brown stated as a matter of fact, that the commissioners on the council had the right to violate the by-law. Any citizen could take action against the Hudson's Bay company or the G. T. P. for violating the building by-law.

The question of the appointment of a city physician will be dealt with next week.

Utilities Outside City Limits?

X. L. MacDonald, who appeared for the Edmonton Leather and Shoe company, gave his reasons why water and light should be given water and light connections on the south side. He stated that the firm was now erecting buildings erected on the present site of the factory at May, and again in July, that the utilities would be required to the company's plant.

He added that now, although the buildings were practically completed, the application to the commissioners for water and light had been ignored. The site of the factory at present is just west of the city limits on the line of the C. and E. railway. The company will employ about seventy-five men to start with.

Mr. MacDonald thought that as they were willing to pay for sewerage and light, they were willing to pay for water.

Major Armstrong pointed out that some little time ago the council had passed a resolution declaring that city utilities should not be extended beyond the city limits. The application of the company was before the council at that time.

Ald. Clarke wanted to know if there was any objection to the company's application to extend the city limits to the site of the factory at May, and again in July, that the utilities would be required to the company's plant.

Ald. Landy pointed out that both water and light, possibly.

HARVESTER COMPANY A GIANTIC TRUST

Title is Added to Evidence Taken in Suit to Dissolve International Harvester Company

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 16.—(Wn.) J. Jones, of New York, California, one of the plaintiffs in the International Harvester Company suit, today introduced evidence in support of his contention that the company was a trust. He stated that the company was organized in 1902, and that it had since that time been controlled by a small group of men, who had used their power to suppress competition and to monopolize the market.

That was the year in which the Government charged the harvester company with restraint of trade. Mr. Jones was president of the Trust Company, established at that time.

When I received Mr. Gary's telegram," said Mr. Jones, "I went to New York and introduced me to the office of J. R. Morgan and Company, where he introduced me to Mr. W. Perkins. Mr. Perkins asked me whether I would like to sell him 100,000 shares of the company at a fair price. I didn't then know Mr. Perkins, but I had heard of him as one of the men who had used their power to suppress competition and to monopolize the market. I knew Mr. Perkins was trying to get other companies. He said he already had an option on a Milwaukee plant which, he said, he would use for the production of the harvester company.

Mr. Perkins was held ten years by Mr. Perkins, Charles Deering and Cyrus H. McCormick, the selling trust of the International Harvester Company. International Trust Company, the harvester company, testified that the company owned all the stock in the following companies: International Trust Company, St. Paul, Wisconsin Trust Company, which H. F. Perkins, the president, was also a director in the harvester company. Wisconsin Trust Company, of which H. F. Perkins is the president, was also a director in the harvester company.

Illinois Northern Railroad Company, of which H. F. Perkins, the president, is also a director in the harvester company. ## CLINGING TO PELLITTIER.

Mr. Pellittier announces that he will not resign, his health having improved. If his announcement does not bring satisfaction in any quarter it will be in the camp of his allies. Signs are not wanting that of these would be glad enough to be rid of Mr. Pellittier, and of those who stand with him, and of what they stand for. Association with a man who attained notoriety by slandering Britain and things British and by talking of shooting holes in the Union Jack could hardly be permanently satisfactory to the local section of Mr. Borden's followers. Those may not be made to relish the association any more by Mr. Pellittier's declaration that Mr. Borden refused to hear of him resigning, offering even to administer the heavy fist to the throat of the man rather than lose his presence in the cabinet.

A DANGEROUS PROPHECY.

Sir William MacKenzie has been telling the story of the grain blockade in Ontario that there will be no appreciable grain blockade in the West this year. Sir William is a railway man and should know whether or he speaks when alluding to the capacity of railways to move the grain crop. There will be a general hope that what he foretells may come to pass in connection with this year's grain movement. But even experts occasionally miss the mark through over-optimism, and Sir William is an optimist. The volume of the case is that the volume of grain to be handled is much greater than that of last year, and though the rolling stock on the railways has increased largely the work required of each engine and train of cars in 1912 will be greater than in 1911. Unless Sir William and his contemporaries have found out some new and mystic means of multiplying the capacity of a box-car the probabilities are that Sir William as a prophet will be without honor in the part of the country three months hence.

FOOD RIOTS IN GERMANY.

Germans women have been adopting Suffragette methods of protesting against the high prices of food-stuffs. In some places, the market stalls have been attacked by a policeman per stall, and the military have even had to disperse with drawn sabres the crowds of riotous housewives. The cause of the disturbances is the high tariff excludes foreign food-stuffs and the result is to produce trade into the hands of the landed nobility. So excessive have prices become that horses have been slaughtered in unusual numbers during recent months in place of beef cattle, and even the domestic pig has been has been diminishing in numbers with considerable rapidity. The Government hesitate to reduce the duties on meats and other food-stuffs because the landed proprietors—who are in many cases members of the Reichstag, and who have a class have tremendous influence—threaten to oust the Chancellor in revenge. The manufacturers and all the other privileged ones naturally take the side of the landlords, recognizing that once a breach is made in the tariff walls the whole structure will be liable to more vigorous assaults. As in Canada last year it was urged that reciprocity was only the thin edge of the wedge which would upset the whole protective system, so in Germany it is urged that free food would be demanded by demands for free clothing and free commodities of other kinds. Whether the Government will be able to head-off the threatening storm is doubtful, for elections are in sight and a hunger-maddened people are not easily dissuaded to vote against cheaper food.

MERGERIZING THE ELEVATORS.

Sir Max Aitken, who won a fortune and became a knight by "mergerizing" the cement-making concerns of Canada, has bought out a couple of western elevator companies, and now controls probably the larger number of grain elevators in this province. Last week the Ministers tried to put through Parliament a law which would have empowered the Elevator Commission to refuse cars to the farmers and supply them exclusively to the elevator owners. There may be considerable objection to the grade of the government which rules the province. The provincial government is a grand coup, but we are "onto the curve." If he is going to the States to the States he had better look out for squalls.

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

Toronto Star—It seems to us that there is a connection between these two kinds of news.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Truth today announces that Premier Borden while in London engaged the services of Sir Max Aitken to advise him on the administrative departments of the Canadian Government. The Premier started on September 23rd for Canada, where he will stay for eight weeks. He has been asked to undertake the oversight of the railway work in the different states of the Dominion. He has been asked to advise the government on the recommendation of an expert official from the other country before rearranging the wheels of the dollar of the Department.

WESTERN RAILWAY TALKS.

Montreal, Free Press—The issue is now squarely before the railway commission. If this board fails to equalize the rates between east and west, demand will be made upon parliament to make the railway to the west the express provision of rates, subject to the qualifying factors already mentioned, over the whole Dominion. The demand which the railway commission of the day will be able to deny only if it is prepared to take the next step, the railway commission of the day will be able to deny only if it is prepared to take the next step.

NOTHING DONE.

Edmonton Free Press—The big yield of 1911 proved the necessity for such steps as the Laurier government proposed. For the lack of a market that could be reached, thousands of bushels of wheat were left in the hands of the farmers. This should have shown the necessity of the situation and caused some measure of relief.

to be undertaken without delay. For one year the Borden government has been in power and absolutely nothing has been done to relieve the wheat congestion in spite of the fact that the crop this year is immensely greater than ever before and the situation promises to be much worse.

THE BIRD FOR THE MASSES.

Toronto Star—It is yesterday there was a general impression that Sir James Whitney was an ultra-conservative old gentleman who could not understand a radical measure without feeling as though a tooth were being pulled. He was a laughing matter, however, was shattered by the following announcement which appeared in the Telegram.

DR. MACMURCHY ON BIRDS. He has written a booklet on how to care for them, and the province is distributing them.

The Star quotes both Mr. Zelen and Mr. Hanna. The grand free distribution of infants has been endorsed by the two of them, always interested in welfare, the former was interested in the two of them, always interested in welfare, the former was interested in the two of them, always interested in welfare.

Already, Hanna is having banquets paid for the next provincial campaign. "Have you a little party for the birds?" is the question which he asks of them. Another declares that the government which rules the province. The provincial government is a grand coup, but we are "onto the curve." If he is going to the States to the States he had better look out for squalls.

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

Toronto Star—It seems to us that there is a connection between these two kinds of news.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Jumping from a wagon of the third class of the Mount Royal Hill House, Louis Beaudry, a well known Quebec politician, was killed this morning. Mr. Beaudry was who was purchased of right of way for the Transcontinental railway commission in the district of Quebec, had lost his job recently, owing to his failure to have caused him to end his life. He was killed by a train with his four daughters.

LET SUFFRAGETTES STARVE SAYS GEO. BERNARD SHAW

Famous Novelist Proceeds to Argue to Logical Conclusion the "Food Strikes" Which Impassioned Suffragettes Have Instituted to Secure Their Release.

London, Sept. 16.—Geo. Bernard Shaw has returned to London and the intellect, with a letter on the forcible feeding of the suffragettes which, for lack of more exciting matter, we capture leading places in this morning's papers.

After admitting that suffragettes who commit crimes, like attempted arson, require to be restrained, Mr. Shaw says the method of restraining them has been the government in a dilemma. The only method of restraint at present available is to imprison and starve the women, and the government of voluntary starvation could always force upon the community the alternative of either removing the restraint or seeing them die.

He adds: "To keep a prisoner would mean, allowing her to starve herself to death. In such an extremity it seems to me that a prisoner's right to commit suicide would have to be recognized. As long as the government places within the reach of a suffragette of food, I do not see how it could be held accountable for the prisoner's death, more than if she committed suicide in any other manner."

If a woman, meets me on Waterloo bridge and says, "Give me a five pound note or I'll throw you in the Thames and drown myself as soon as you have gone a sufficient distance to prevent you from helping me," I really do not see how I could reasonably comply with her request, because if it were established as a rule of conduct that I was bound to do so, or else be held guilty of the woman's death, all the women in London might make me stand and deliver in turn until I was a beggar.

Office Could do Something. In the same way, if the government is bound to release every prisoner who threatens to commit suicide by starvation then all the criminals and suicides' jail delivery and practically abolish all legal methods of dealing with crime.

"My conclusion, therefore, is that if the prisoners in Mountjoy, Mrs. Leigh and Miss Gladys Evans, sentenced for the Dublin theatre affair, are determined to commit suicide by starvation, they must be allowed to do so and the government could not be held responsible for their deaths if it could confine the public that it had plenty of food within reach.

"This is a solid fact and it has been evident to intelligent observers for some time that the movement of militant suffragettes developed the line which separates what I may call public safety, which the community would like to be free from, and the line which would drive the government to this conclusion."

THE WILL OF COUNT NOGI IS MADE PUBLIC

Japanese Warlord Decided to End His Life on September 12.

Tokyo, Sept. 16.—The will of Gen. Count Muro Nogi was published today.

The Japanese warlord says that he follows the emperor because his services are no longer required in this world. He had often longed to die, he added, and chose as the occasion for his departure from this life the present great national calamity under which the country is laboring.

The document bears the date of the night of September 12, twenty-four hours previous to the taking of his life, and it indicates that the death of the count had not been wished for upon when the instrument was prepared.

General Nogi distributes his property among his wife and friends and makes donations to a number of public institutions. He says that his wife will be the house of Nogi may be maintained but that after her death the will will be executed.

The Post Author here suggests that the body be given to a medical college—something that only his tooth-brush and nail be buried in the grave.

WILSON TURNS HIS GUNS ON FORMER SENATOR BEVERIDGE

Democratic Presidential Candidate Presents Progressive Party as the Avowed Allies of the Big Interests—Quotes Their Platform to Show It.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Through Ohio and Indiana, Governor Woodrow Wilson off some impromptu campaign yesterday that was as vigorous as it was unexpected.

No previous arrangement had been made for speeches and the train schedule was delayed by delay in the day, but crowds gathered along the route and Governor Wilson made nearly a dozen speeches from his car.

He replied to ex-senator Beveridge of Indiana, who charged in a recent speech that Governor Wilson, checked, would be "down-converted" by the Democratic candidate, State Senator Fred Kleiner and Mayor Eugene Lusk, Indiana, board of the trial and told Wilson about Senator Beveridge's speech, so that when the Democratic candidate reached Indianapolis he hit at Mr. Beveridge in a large crowd.

"I understand that in a speech made last Saturday night," said Governor Wilson, "a very much esteemed friend of mine, namely, Senator Beveridge, said he had been very serious fear about me, namely, that if I were elected president I would be controlled by the money. I never suggested before that Senator Beveridge was a humorist, because if he did not know that was a joke, he could have known. What he has been saying is that I had changed all my political habits."

"The way you can tell whether a man is going to be controlled by the money is to see if he has been in touch with a box or not. Do you know what a box is? A box is a political unit of certain general interest."

THE CANADIAN TEAM, AMONG WHOM IS THE REGINA LACER DETACHMENT.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 17.—Increasing excitement about the degrading effect of the war on the wheat market here. The fact that the wheat market here is so low is due to the fact that the war has been so long and so severe.

For purposes of intercommunication, the war equipment of a field artillery brigade will include a large number of telephones. These telephones will be used for the purpose of intercommunication between the various units of the brigade.

A further drop caused as a result of the increase in the world's wheat supply. The price, however, was firm with December at 74, a net gain of a shade.

THE FINANCIAL AND

COMMERCIAL MARKETS

Chicago Grain Markets

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Wheat futures showed a moderate advance today because of the prospect of a dry autumn, although the prospective harvest was estimated to be satisfactory. The market closed firmly, with the following prices:

No. 1 hard winter wheat, 1.15 to 1.16

advance, net at a cash sale.

Option trading in wheat parities was active, but the market reflected further the threatening of the autumn crop. On the other hand, spot dealings were demonstrated the presence of a moderate surplus of wheat

below contract prices. Receipts
